This is an umbrella organisation covering the Lake District teams, police representatives and other organisations interested in mountain rescue, such as RAF and National Park Rangers.

The purpose of the Lake District Search and Mountain Rescue Association is to act as a link between the national Mountain Rescue Council and all other interested bodies. The association speaks out and acts on behalf of the teams on matters relating to Lake District mountain rescue as a whole. It also fosters publicity aimed at the prevention of mountain accidents.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT FOR 2004

Incidents in 2004 showed an 11% increase on the previous year, with a total of 390 calls involving 436 individuals. These figures together with the number of people seen on the fells would seem to indicate that walkers have returned to the area somewhere around the numbers we had prior to the Foot and Mouth outbreak.

You will also note from the statistics a significant increase in the number of fatalities. This of course was affected by the tragic incident involving cockle pickers in Morecambe Bay. However on a more positive note, the number of fatal heart attacks has more than halved.

Teams have been involved in a greater number of searches this year, which cannot be put down solely to bad weather. It would appear that a number of groups are inadequately prepared in terms of their experience in navigation and either over estimate their capabilities or under estimate the possibility of changes in the weather. They should consider alternative plans if the situation seems in any way doubtful. The possession of a map and compass, plus the ability to use them, is often more valuable than a mobile phone that can have limited coverage in the mountains.

There has also been a three-fold increase in the number of non-mountain searches attended, which would seem to suggest that the Police realize the value of our experience. They have often called on our assistance to search for missing persons, sometimes even in urban areas.

As one would expect though, the majority of our calls are to the fells and mainly for ankle and lower leg injuries, possibly exacerbated by the very wet and slippery underfoot conditions experienced throughout much of the year.

At the beginning of the year, another new purpose-built headquarters was opened, this time for the Langdale Ambleside Team. This is on the site of the former base but the new building is large enough to house all their vehicles and provides a number of rooms that can be used for meetings, workshops etc. as well as the main control room from where incidents are monitored.

We were also pleased this year when all the Lakeland teams took delivery in July, of new high-band radios. Though we had had a good operational system before, we had been forced to change due to the Government's re-allocation of radio frequencies. Our former low-band frequency was now unavailable to us. The new network has been supplied by Simoco and funded by Cumbria Constabulary. Cumbria Constabulary has assisted Lake District Mountain Rescue Teams with the provision of communication equipment for over thirty years and we are very grateful to them for this. Needless to say though, such a major change has involved the teams in both financial investment and members' time to establish the new efficient network.

This time is over and above the time spent training and on call-outs. In fact the time spent on actual incidents alone this year, exceeded twenty thousand hours. With approximately four hundred members in the Lake District teams this is a substantial commitment which not only involves the members but impacts on their partners and on family life.

Although rescue teams operate in as safe and controlled manner as possible, there are occasionally factors out of our control, such as occurred on one call out during the year. The rotor of a helicopter, winching members down to an incident, hit the crag, resulting in a member of the Kendal Team falling and receiving serious injuries. An accident like this is very rare, but families are aware that there is always a risk. So my thanks must go to them, as well as to the Team Members, for their unending commitment and support.

Thanks must also go to all those who have contributed and helped in any way over the year, including the Police Service, The Ambulance Service and helicopter crews, both military and civil. These groups have helped us to continue the excellent rescue service for which we are well known.

Finally a special thank you to the officers of LDSAMRA and in particular Ged Feeney who compiled the statistics for this report.

John Dempster,

Chairman

Causes Of Incidents

The following table is the result of a search through all the reports for key words relating to the causes for calling out the Mountain Rescue Team(s). For example, the category Benighted will include any word with 'benight-' and 'darkness' as part of the word or phrase.

Please note that the totals of these columns may not match the number of incidents given at the bottom of each column. Many incident reports refer to more than one cause. A typical report will illustrate this:-

'tripped on footpath whilst walking and fell 2 metres onto rocky ground'

This will result in contributions to the trip/stumble and fall categories.

Types Of Injury

The following table is the result of a search through all the reports for key words relating to types of injury or medical conditions. For example, the category Lacerations will include any word with "lacerat-", "cut-" and "gash-" as part of the word or phrase.

Please note that the totals of these columns do not match the number of casualties given at the bottom of each column. Unfortunately many of the casualties sustain more than one injury as a result of their accident. A typical report will illustrate this:-

"Fracture/dislocation of the ankle, cuts to hands and knee"

This will result in contributions to the fracture, dislocation and laceration categories.

Mobile Phones & Mountain Rescue

Advice to Users

There is no doubt that using mobile phones have saved lives in the mountains and fells of this country. The sooner rescue teams are alerted to an incident, the better are the chances of a quick and complete recovery for the victim. However, over the past few years there have been occasions when teams have been alerted inappropriately. The notes that follow are given in the hope that the mobile phone can be used to better effect and to minimise any frustration.

When to use

1. if you or a member of your party sustains an injury warranting the assistance of a mountain rescue team.
2. if you come across someone who has sustained an injury warranting the assistance of a mountain rescue team.
3. if one of your party has become separated from the main party and you have made every effort to but have been unable to meet up again.
4. if you want to report having seen or heard any internationally recognised distress calls.
5. if you wish to notify someone of a change of plan (not a 999 call).

When not to use

1. Do not use the mobile phone at the first sign of trouble; be self-reliant if possible.
2. Do not rely solely on the mobile phone as a safety device; there are areas of poor or no reception (dead areas).
3. The mobile phone is not a substitute for experience.

How to use

1. First make a note of all relevant details, Location (Grid Ref. if possible)
Name, Sex and Age of Casualty.
Nature of Injuries or disability.
Number of people in party and intended destination.
THE NUMBER OF THE MOBILE PHONE IN USE.
2. Dial 999 and ask for the Police.
3. Make sure you tell the operator that you require the Cumbria Police as you are in the Lake District.
4. When connected to a Police control room, check that it is the Cumbria Police. If it is not, then make sure that the information will be passed on.
5. Explain the nature of your call, giving details previously prepared.
6. Do NOT change your position until contacted by Rescue Team, who will agree future protocol for use of Phone.
7. If you have to make a further 999 call, use ALL the above procedure again.

Advice To Those Using The Mountains & Fells

LIVE A LITTLE LONGER

British mountains can be killers if proper care is not taken. The following notes cover the minimum precautions if you want to avoid getting hurt or lost, and so inconveniencing or endangering others as well as yourselves.

Clothing

This should be colourful, warm, windproof and waterproof. Wear boots with moulded rubber soles, not shoes, trainers or wellingtons. Take a woollen cap, scarf, gloves and a spare jersey; it is always colder on the tops.

Food

In addition to the usual sandwiches, take chocolate, dried fruit, mintcake or similar sweet things, which restore energy quickly. If you don't need them yourself, someone else may. Becks on fells are drinkable if fast-running over stony beds.

Equipment

This must include map, compass, and at least one reliable watch in the party. A whistle, torch and spare batteries and bulbs are essential. Use six blasts or flashes repeated at one-minute intervals to signal an emergency. In winter conditions, an ice axe, crampons and survival bag are essential. Climbers are all urged to wear helmets, especially in winter conditions.

Company

If in groups, make sure party leaders are experienced; do not leave one or two behind to rest and catch up later. Take special care of the youngest and weakest especially in dangerous places. If you prefer to go alone, be very careful at all times. Let people know your route at the start, and stick to it as far as you can.

Emergencies

Don't press on if conditions are against you - turn back even if it upsets your plan. Learn First Aid, and keep injured or exhausted people warm until help reaches you. Get a message to the Police for help as soon as possible, and report changes of route or timetable to them if someone is expecting you. The Police will do the rest.

Dangers which Can Always Be Avoided

□ until you know how to cope with them:

Precipices

Slopes of ice,
steep snow,
very steep grass (especially frozen),
unstable boulders.

Gullies and stream beds,

streams / rivers in spate,
snow cornices on ridges or gully tops,
over-ambition,
carelessness.

Dangers which may Surprise You

□ and should be guarded against:

Weather changes - mist, gale, rain or snow.

Get forecasts, and watch the sky in all quarters

Ice on paths

Carry an ice-axe and wear crampons - know how to use them

Excessive cold or heat.

Dress sensibly, and take spare clothing.

Incipient exhaustion.

Know the signs; rest and keep warm.

Accident or illness.

Don't panic. If you send for help, make sure that the rescuers know exactly where to come.

Flight of time.

Learn your own pace. Plan your walk.

Allow double time in winter conditions.

Pride.

It is no disgrace to turn back if you are not certain. A party must be governed by the capabilities of the weakest member.

Donating To Mountain Rescue

If you wish to support financially the Mountain Rescue Service, in the Lake District, the Association will be pleased to receive your donation. The Association equally shares out all it receives to the 13 Teams in the Lake District. There are several ways of assisting, some more financially advantageous than others.

1. Gift Aid

Following recent changes in the law relating to donating to charities, completion of a Deed of Covenant is no longer necessary. Most donations are now covered by a Gift Aid declaration. If you pay tax, Gift Aid is a scheme by which you can give a sum of money to a charity and the charity can reclaim from the Inland Revenue basic rate tax on your gift. You can make payments by cash, cheque, postal order, direct debit or standing order. Subject to a few rules, you can give any amount, large or small, regular or one-off and the charity can reclaim the tax.

If you want to make a donation through Gift Aid please complete the form printed overleaf having read the notes and return it, with either your donation or a completed copy of the Bankers Order to the Association's treasurer.

1.1 If your declaration covers donations you may make in the future:

- Please notify the charity if you change your name or address while the declaration is in force
- You can cancel the declaration at any time by notifying the charity it will then not apply to donations you make on or after the date of the cancellation or such later date as you specify.

1.2 You must pay an amount of income tax and/or capital gains tax at least equal to the tax that the charity reclaims on your donations in the tax year (currently 28p for each pound you give).

1.3 If in future your circumstances change and you no longer pay tax on your income and capital gains equal to the tax that the charity reclaims, you can cancel your declaration (see note 1.1)

1.4 If you pay tax at the higher rate you can claim further tax relief in your Self Assessment tax return.

1.5 If you are unsure whether your donations qualify for Gift Aid tax relief, ask the charity. Or you can ask your local tax office for leaflet IR113 Gift Aid

2. Give As You Earn

This is a tax free way of giving to charities direct from your pay and many employers have agreed to co-operate. The donation is deducted from your pay before your tax deduction is calculated. The Association is registered with the Charities Aid Foundation.

If this appeals to you, please approach your employer with these details:
